

A close-up photograph of a vibrant, multi-colored patchwork quilt. The quilt is composed of numerous small squares and rectangles, each featuring different patterns and colors, including reds, pinks, greens, blues, and yellows. The quilt is hanging vertically, and its texture is clearly visible. The background is dark and out of focus, showing what appears to be a wooden railing or door frame.

FEBRUARY

Photos by Barb Messer

